Description

The camRade camStrap Standard with Sony “Cam-C” clips is an adjustable camera strap constructed of rugged black nylon with a non-slip suede pad. It is curved to contour comfortably to the user’s shoulder and neck. The padding reduces strain from even the heaviest loads, ensuring a minimum of stress during your activities.

By using an easy clip-on system with Sony-type stainless steel connectors, the strap can quickly and safely be attached to the camera or camcorder.

Note: The camRade camStrap Standard clips do not fit certain Panasonic cameras
