Description

The camRade monitorGuard 5" is a black water-resistant protective cover for a wide range of 5 inch on-camera field monitors like the ones from TVlogic, Small HD and Atomos (Ninja).

The monitorGuard is a protective case, a sun hood and a carrying case in one. It protects the monitor and allows you to keep shooting in bad weather conditions.

The monitor is enclosed by the padded fabric with strips of hoop and loop fasteners on all sides. This allows you to access and close the cover at any location. That means easy access to controls and exit of cables.

The cover is also equipped with a foldable sunhood which helps minimize glare on your screen and improves screen visibility when using the monitor in the field.

This item will be delivered to you in a waterproof pouch with zipper, which you can use for storing and transportation of the cover v
