Target Audience

The amaran Verge Max is built for creators who value the soft, studio-quality output of a COB and softbox setup but need a space-saving design for smaller creative environments. Whether recording against walls, in corners, or from compact home studios, the amaran Verge Max delivers the same flattering, diffused light in just 9% of the footprint – ideal for creators who need to maximize space without compromising light quality.

For creators filming at a desk, the included Desk Clamp Stand makes it easy to mount the light overhead for product shots or directly in front for talking head videos, with its adjustable height and pan & tilt control. And for creators working in small home studios, the optional amaran Verge Stand Adapter offers added flexibility for lighting larger areas from a distance.

With front-facing knob controls for quick adjustments and full wireless control via the amaran desktop app and Stream Deck plugin, the amaran Verge Max lets you stay in frame and in control. Make lighting adjustments in real-time without disrupting your content, stream, or workflow – whether you're engaging with your audience or showcasing products on camera.

Product Description

The amaran Verge Max is a bi-color, 55cm (22in) circular edge-lit panel light designed for desktop creators and compact spaces, delivering soft, true-to-life lighting in an ultra-thin profile, without the bulk of a traditional softbox setup. With customized amaran Verge Lock mounting, edge-lit output that's soft on the eyes, and multiple ways to control, the amaran Verge Max brings studio-quality lighting to tight home studios and flexible creative setups.

Space-saving, softbox-quality light. Designed for compact spaces, the amaran Verge Max delivers the same softness and flattering diffusion of a traditional COB and softbox setup – in an ultra-slim, circular panel that's just 9% of the depth[1]. Perfect for creators working against walls, in corners, or in home studios where every inch of space matters.

Customized mounting with the amaran Verge Lock. Whether clamped to your desk with the included Desk Clamp Stand or mounted on a traditional light stand[3] for compact studio setups, you can easily tailor your setup to fit any creative environment. With the amaran Verge Lock mounting system that is quick, easy, and hidden from view, you can achieve precise height and 180º pan and tilt adjustments for tabletop product shots or talking head content – all while keeping your setup clean, secure, and clutter-free.

True-to-life, soft edge-lit output. Wrapped with edge-lit LEDs for indirect illumination, the amaran Verge Max emits a soft, evenly diffused glow – minimizing harsh shadows while recreating flattering, true-to-life tones that make you and your content shine. Whether you're streaming, recording, or showcasing products, the amaran Verge Max delivers studio-quality light that elevates every frame.

Multi-control options for desktop. Take full control of your lighting with multiple options tailored for desktop setups. As the first circular panel with front-facing knobs and a menu screen, the amaran Verge Max puts brightness and color temperature adjustments at your fingertips – without reaching behind your light. For more advanced customization, fine-tune exact values or trigger effects wirelessly via the amaran Desktop App or Stream Deck plugin.

Soft on the eyes for all-day creation. The amaran Verge Max is the perfect lighting companion for creating for hours on end without eye strain. RG0-certified for the highest level of eye safety and comfort, the amaran Verge Max eliminates UV light, minimizes blue light, and delivers flicker-free, low-glare lighting that's soft on the eyes – even during extended use.

Lighting that blends into your workspace. Available in White or Charcoal, the amaran Verge Max is designed to complement a wide range of creative environments – from clean and minimal setups to bold and dark spaces. And with streamlined USB-C PD power, it offers a simplified, clutter-free solution that adapts to your gear, keeping your setup minimal, organized, and ready to create.
